Re: Bylaw No. 3195 - Zoning Bylaw Amendment no.184 (RZ10-21) and Development Permit DP13-21

I do not agree to have a 96-unit apartment development. The whole 55A street is built with townhomes. Adding a huge condo building does not make sense. Not only it will jam up the street with so many residents coming in and out of the street, especially there's no way through on the other end of the street. All cars will be coming in and out the same direction. Street parking will be way much harder to find. My current townhome complex only supply us 6 visitor parkings for all our 28units. We rely heavily on our street parking for our visitors at the front of our house. Our views will also be blocked. This condo will be built straight in front of our house meaning we will only be seeing this huge building in front of us when we look out, nothing else. Please reconsider to continue rebuilding townhomes only. Thank you.
