2023 CIP/API National Conference

As we work together towards our vision of supporting inclusive and vibrant communities—respectfully connected to the natural world, for the well-being of current and future generations—the path is rarely straight.

Planning our journey to a better future requires reassessing where we are and considering possible course corrections. The 2023 national planning conference is an opportunity for planners and other community builders to share lessons and explore ideas as we navigate the complex and interconnected issues facing our communities.

No shoal nor dark sky will deter the Canadian Institute of Planners and the Atlantic Planners Institute from their expedition for solutions and their shared commitment to the pursuit of possibilities.
