

DRAFT- Langley City Citizens' Assembly: Building a Better Future Together

Are you passionate about making Langley City a safer, healthier, and more connected community?

Langley City is launching a Citizens' Assembly to tackle some of our most important challenges. This is your chance to be part of something big – a chance to help shape the future of our city.

What is a Citizens' Assembly?

Imagine a special group of people from all walks of life coming together to brainstorm solutions to big community problems. That's what a Citizens' Assembly is! We're looking for residents like you – people who are passionate about improving our community – to join us.

Why should you join?

You'll have a direct voice in shaping the future of Langley City. The Assembly will focus on important issues like:

- Safety: Making sure everyone feels safe in their neighborhood.
- Helping those in need: Finding ways to better support people experiencing homelessness, vulnerability, or mental health challenges.
- Housing: Improving access to safe and affordable housing.
- Community: Strengthening connections and improving quality of life for everyone.

The Assembly will meet regularly to discuss these challenges and develop recommendations for the City Council. Your ideas and experience will directly influence the decisions our city leaders make.

Who can join?

Anyone who is 16 years or older and lives in Langley City is welcome to apply! We want a diverse group of people representing all parts of our community, including different ages, backgrounds, and experiences. Indigenous representation is particularly encouraged.

What's involved?

The Assembly will meet regularly for approximately a year. The exact schedule will be circulated. It involves time commitments to attend meetings, participate in discussions, and provide input.
